

Homeless Veterans Visit the Ranch

Victory Ranch Hosts Veterans from HomeFirst

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA — April 28, 2017 — Homeless Veterans from HomeFirst were able to spend some time relaxing and visiting with the horses at Victory Ranch recently. Victory Ranch Inc. has started a Veterans Ranch Visit Program, that brings horses and Veterans together to enjoy a special outing, and experience a peaceful time at a rural ranch in the SW San Jose area.

“We are excited to start this program to reach out to the Veterans, and provide an on-going program with our partner, HomeFirst”, comments Doug Hutten, the founder of Victory Ranch and an Army Veteran.

Victory Ranch continues to conduct the Kids & Horses Education Program (11 years now) to disadvantaged kids from the South San Francisco Bay area. This innovative equestrian program leaves the students with improved communication skills, renewed self-confidence, and a transformed sense of self-achievement... rewards that leave a lifetime impression with these challenged youth. The program is free to these participants.
